

Salute to Summer Festival Set for May 23-26

Jim & Nancy Thompson Selected as 2019 Parade Grand Marshals

Name any type of community service and Jim or Nancy Thompson have probably been involved at some point over the past 45 years.

Teacher, school board member, county commissioner, state senator, non-profit board member – they have literally done it all.

For their commitment to public service and to the La Vista community, they have been chosen as this year's Salute to Summer Festival Parade Grand Marshals.

Nancy's service has also spanned many different facets of the community. In 1982, she was the first woman elected to the Sarpy County Board, later serving in the Nebraska Legislature from 1997 to 2006.

Her career has also included teaching as well as leadership roles with the La Vista Community Foundation, Big Brothers Big Sisters of the Midlands, the Health Center Association of Nebraska and the Omaha Community Partnership. Nancy is also on the City's Citizen Advisory Review Committee.

"We have been honored to have opportunities presented to us," Nancy said. "We've been able to do all sorts of fun things over the years."

Jim's public service in the community started in 1972 when he began teaching at Papillion Junior High, later moving to Trumble Park Elementary as the principal.

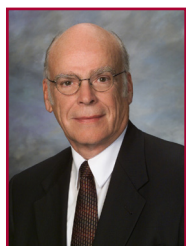

While his career later took him into banking,

Barmettler Family to be Honored as 2019 Friend of La Vista

Jeannie Barmettler beams with pride when she talks about her late husband Joe's work in La Vista.

Joe was the City Attorney from 1963 to 2003 and over the course of those 40 years, he contributed to the growth and stability of La Vista through his advice and legal expertise.

In honor of Joe's service to the La Vista community over the course of his career, the Barmettler family will be honored during the Salute to Summer Festival as the 2019 Friend of La Vista.

The City has named a street in City Centre in his honor, Barmettler Drive, that will be dedicated on Sunday, May 26, at 1 p.m.

Joe passed away in 2016, but his legacy is alive and well with Jeannie and their five children and 15 grandchildren.

When he became the City Attorney in 1963, La Vista did not have a City Hall, and village board meetings often took place in the garages of board members on picnic tables.

In La Vista's history book, Joe recounted the story of how the City dealt with its failing water system in the 1960s. The City eventually sold it to Metropolitan Utilities

District, but not before women showed up at City Council meetings with laundry baskets complaining about how the water had damaged their laundry.

Joe's work in La Vista was very much his professional legacy, Jeannie said.

"Our son Tim had asked Joe what he considered his legacy to be," she said. "Tim named all the clients he knew of that Joe served, but he didn't list La Vista. Joe said right away, 'Well, La Vista is my proudest legacy. La Vista was my baby, definitely La Vista is what I'm most proud of.'"

La Vista held a special place in Joe's heart, said his daughter, Katie.

"He always spoke so fondly about La Vista," she said. "He felt a very special connection to the City. He loved being part of this community."

A MINUTE WITH mayor kindig

La Vista is a great place to live, raise a family, own a business or attend an event. We have a reputation for being a progressive, safe and family friendly community.

However, when it comes to telling people about the many assets of our City, we don't have a common, cohesive way to communicate our story.

The City is currently pursuing a research and branding initiative to uncover what is unique and authentic about the community and then determine how best to articulate and present that on behalf of all who live and work in La Vista.

Because of our growth and redevelopment projects, we have timely and immediate opportunities to promote what makes our community distinct in a regionally competitive market for investors, businesses, retailers, young professionals, visitors and residents.

Our partner, North Star Destination Strategies, was here in April touring our community, conducting interviews and focus groups, and even doing some undercover conversations. So, you may have already shared your opinion about our community.

In order to be sure that everyone has a chance to share their perspective, in mid-May, we will launch a community survey. You can visit the website to request a notification when the Community Survey is available (you should complete your survey before June 9.) We hope you will participate!

You can learn more about the project at www.lavistabrand.com.

Thank you for your input.

– Mayor Douglas Kindig

he continued to serve on the Papillion La Vista Board of Education, then on the Learning Community Council and most recently on the Sarpy County Board of Commissioners representing La Vista.

Jim was also involved in the founding of the Sarpy County Community YMCA.

Getting around town was certainly easier in the early 1970s, Jim said.

"In 1972 we were in a bowling league in Papillion," he said, "and once you got past the tunnel on 84th Street (near where the interstate is now), you could set the cruise control."

Jim and Nancy are proud to have served and proud to be La Vista residents.

"La Vista has come a long way, I'm really proud of them," Nancy said. "The thing they should be most proud of is how they handled the growth and how much they cared about the people. They held off on a lot of things to make sure the planning went well, and we have a beautiful city."

Krzywicki Honored for 35 Years of Service

La Vista Planning Commissioner Mike Krzywicki was recently honored for 35 years of service to the City.

"Service is at the heart of what we do as an organization," said Mayor Douglas Kindig at the Employee/Volunteer Recognition Dinner where Krzywicki received the award. "Mike has given outstanding volunteer service to our community and his work has helped shape our city."

To be a volunteer for 35 years of a city's 59 years of existence means Krzywicki has played a role in many of La Vista's development projects and its overall progress.

"Mike has always been fair in his assessments," Kindig said. "His decisions are based on facts and not emotion, and he puts a lot of thought into those decisions."

Community Development Director Ann Birch Retires

When Ann Birch began her employment in 2004 as La Vista's Community Development Director, the City was on the cusp of change.

The City was growing, the 84th Street corridor was still the vibrant Golden Mile and Wal-Mart had not yet announced its move from La Vista. Projects such as Cimarron Woods, Oriental Trading Company and much of Southport hadn't been constructed yet.

During her tenure, there have been many development projects and initiatives, which Birch has helped plan and implement.

Vision 84 and the corresponding plans and projects, which led to the current redevelopment activity along 84th Street, was definitely the priority, she said.

Other initiatives were key as well, such as the Rental Inspection Program, continued development of Southport and ensuring the orderly growth of the City through annexations.

After 15 years of service in La Vista, as well as tenures with the cities of Bellevue and Council Bluffs, Birch has retired effective May 3.

"Someone said to me that you'll know when it's time," Birch said. "It's time to step away from this and do something else. It's been a big part of my identity, and I've loved that, and I've been proud of that."

A lot of that pride comes from knowing she was working for a community dedicated to doing things right the first time.

"Not all development is good development. In La Vista that's true," Birch said. "Every project counts in our defined growth area, so doing it right once is the key. The City's leadership has been so committed to that.

The Mayor and Council all know what their standards are, they're very progressive, thoughtful and goal-oriented and they have a plan and stick to it."

Birch has left her legacy in La Vista, said City Administrator Brenda Gunn.

"Ann has been a valuable member of our leadership team," Gunn said. "She has provided not only planning expertise, but also a dedication to doing everything for the benefit of our community. She will be missed, and we wish her the best."
