A. Land Use and Market Analysis Study – Planning Commission Work Session

Fountain gave a brief introduction to the Commission on the Land Use and Market Analysis Study. He said that the realization was made that there are only a handful of parcels left for development and that there have also been inquiries about changing the zoning on several sites to multi-family or other uses that were not originally in the vision, so before rushing into making those changes, it was decided that a closer look into what the City has and needs was necessary.

Council approved the hiring of RDG Planning and Design and their partners, Gruen Gruen and Associates to conduct the study. Fountain said they have held a few stakeholder meetings to get the process started but wanted to get input from the Commission as well. He then introduced Amy Haase from RDG.

Amy Haase delivered a presentation on the progress and timeline of the Land Use and Market Analysis Study. She then asked for input from the Commission about what they would like to see, if anyone has come to them about what they would like to be brought to La Vista, and what their vision is for the development opportunities that are being looked at.

Commission members provided input on what their concerns were and what they would like to see in the future.
