La Vista Gets Thumbs Up from Citizens

A key objective identified in the City's 2007-2009 Strategic Plan was to conduct a random-sample citizen survey to determine residents' attachment to La Vista and to gather ideas for improving the community and municipal services. Such a survey is also useful for assessing community needs, facilitating long-range, short-term and strategic plans, benchmarking and policy development.

As a result, in November 2007 the City of La Vista participated in the National Citizen Survey™, a customized citizen survey process that collects, analyzes and reports data back to the municipality. A random sample of 1,200 La Vista residents were selected to participate in this survey. The survey response rate was 31% which is considered a good return.

The National Citizen Survey™ contained many questions related to the life of residents in the Community. Survey participants were asked to rate their overall quality of life, as well as other aspects of quality of life in La Vista. They also evaluated characteristics of the community, and gave their perceptions of safety in the City of La Vista. The questionnaire assessed use of the amenities of the community and involvement by respondents in the civic and economic life of La Vista.

The highest rated characteristics of La Vista were overall quality of new development, educational opportunities, overall appearance and overall image/reputation. When asked about potential problems in La Vista, the three concerns rated by the highest proportion of respondents as a "major problem" were taxes, drugs and unsupervised youth. The rate of population growth was viewed as "too fast" by 16% of respondents, while 8% thought it was "too slow".

When evaluating safety in the community, 84% of respondents felt "somewhat" or "very safe" from violent crimes in La Vista. In their neighborhood after dark, 85% of survey participants felt "somewhat" or "very safe." Residents also similarly ranked Fire and Emergency Medical Services.

Residents ranked all city services above the national norm. Seventy-two percent of the respondents indicated that they were pleased with the overall direction the City of La Vista is taking.

Other areas of interest in the survey included overwhelming support for a new aquatic facility. However, when the potential of increased taxes to fund such a facility was presented, the level of support decreased. When asked to identify what citizens felt was La Vista's most pressing need, there were a significant number of respondents who mentioned the 84th Street corridor and/or specifically the vacant Wal-Mart property. (See article, page 3).

Finally, while most citizens are not necessarily excited about paying taxes, La Vista was ranked in the 74th percentile by respondents when asked if they felt they received a good value for the City of La Vista taxes they pay. Out of 219 communities asking a similar survey question, La Vista ranked 57th.

The City sincerely appreciates the residents who took the time to respond. A full report of the citizen survey results is available for review at La Vista City Hall, the La Vista Public Library and on the City's website at www.cityoflavista.org.

The Mayor and City Council participate in an annual Strategic Planning meeting to set goals and direction for the upcoming year. Major issues such as the erosion along Thompson Creek (see below) were discussed.

A MINUTE WITH mayor kindig

Each spring prior to the beginning of the City's annual budget preparation process, the Mayor, City Council and management team participate in a day-long strategic planning session. I truly believe this meeting is one of the most important things we do each year. It gives us an opportunity to review the progress we have made and re-establish our priorities and goals for the upcoming year. It is the process by which we set the direction for La Vista.

As we worked on our strategic planning efforts this year, it was extremely beneficial to have the results of the citizen survey for reference. We now have input directly from the citizens who live in La Vista about what they want and need from their community. Thank you to everyone who received a survey and responded. You have provided valuable information and direction.

As evidenced by the survey, one of the issues that continues to be a concern for residents is the vacant Wal Mart property and the 84th Street corridor in general. Because so many of you mentioned this in your survey comments, we have included information elsewhere in this newsletter to let you know just what the City can and cannot do regarding vacant properties.

While the City Council and I are pleased to know that citizens are generally satisfied with city services and the quality of life in La Vista, the survey also gives us insight into community wants and needs. We don't want to become complacent and we know there are always things we can do better. The survey results will help us focus our efforts in the right direction.

La Vista History Project

In just two short years the City of La Vista will celebrate the 50th anniversary of its founding. In conjunction with that anniversary we are undertaking a project to record the City's first 50 years of history.

A committee of several people with connections to the early years of La Vista has been established. If you have a story to tell, photos or other La Vista memorabilia, we would like to hear from you. Our goal is to publish a book that tells La Vista's story, where we started, how we got to where we are now, and our vision for the future.

Please contact Rita Ramirez at rramirez@cityoflavista.org or 331-4343 with ideas, questions or comments. We look forward to hearing from you.

Why is the Wal-Mart Property Still Vacant?

The fact that the former Wal-Mart location in Brentwood Crossing is still vacant 18 months after the company moved to a new location is obviously on the minds of La Vista's citizens. Twenty-one percent of those responding to the National Citizen Survey listed the vacant property and/or the general conditions along the 84th Street corridor as a concern.

Unfortunately, there is very little the City can do with regard to vacant commercial properties. Wal-Mart has a lease on the Brentwood Crossing property until 2011. The Kroenke Group, located in Missouri, owns the property. The decisions made by private business owners with regard to leasing or selling their properties are just that, private, and not governed by the City.

Here is what the City CAN do. The City can enforce its ordinances to ensure that vacant properties do not fall into disrepair. It can keep existing infrastructure (84th Street) well maintained. In regard to the Brentwood Crossing property, the City has kept in touch with Wal-Mart representatives as well as the property owner. La Vista officials are working hard to make potential developers aware of the vacancy. Additionally, funds have been budgeted to explore options regarding a long-term visioning process for the 84th Street corridor.

There are many reasons why commercial properties become vacant. New development on the western end of the City as well as in neighboring communities has enticed some businesses to relocate. The City is committed to the long-term economic health of the 84th Street corridor and will do whatever it can to keep the area a viable commercial corridor.

La Vista's Finest Go Hollywood

Lausten and Kinsey spent the weekend in Los Angeles as part of the security team at the Oscars. They were guests of the company providing security for the event and were provided a "behind-the-scenes" look at the organization, planning and implementation of the security plan. Due to the fact that the event is held in a public shopping-entertainment center rather than being confined to one venue, security is very comprehensive and creative. In addition to the LAPD and the LA Fire Department, the FBI and the Department of Homeland Security were involved in the security plan.

Lausten and Kinsey were assigned to a detail monitoring the arrival of 3,000 guests and following the awards program they provided security for 1,000 guests who attended the Academy of Motion Pictures Arts and Sciences Governor's Ball. It was a great opportunity to observe the inner workings of a very large scale security operation.

The La Vista Police Department's Criminal Investigations Bureau received an award at the annual Sarpy County Crimestoppers Luncheon for their outstanding work in 2007.

2007 Annual Report

The La Vista Police Department's 2007 Annual Report indicates that crime statistics were down considerably in 2007. In fact, they were at the lowest level in five years. Significant decreases were seen in the number of incidents of vandalism, theft and assault.

As the City continues to grow, it is not surprising that the number of traffic crashes continues to increase. Traffic safety was one of the areas of focus for the Police Department last year. Alcohol-related enforcement was increased with the use of sobriety checkpoints and initiatives to combat underage drinking. During 2007 the department issued 5,024 traffic citations and written warnings, and on average had a DUI arrest every two days.

Again in 2007, the Police Department partnered with other city departments and a wide variety of private organizations to provide an array of services that strengthen families, build neighborhoods, and preserve our high quality of life. The officers of the La Vista Police Department are committed to continuing the tradition of maintaining La Vista as a safe place in which to live, work and raise a family.

Council Gives Direction on Thompson Creek

Following presentations, resident feedback, meetings, surveys, and a tour of the affected area, the La Vista City Council provided direction for addressing the erosion along Thompson Creek between Edgewood Blvd. and 72nd Street, and instructed staff to pursue funding options. The preferred option is a combination of property acquisition (22 homes) and channel construction work. Estimated cost is $4.3 million. Now that an option has been identified, applications can be submitted for funding from various sources. The timeline for this project will be directly connected to the availability of funding. If citizens have questions or concerns they may contact City Hall at 331-4343 or visit the City's website at www.cityoflavista.org

Prevent Water Pollution

Residents are reminded that anything that is washed out of their yard and driveway into the street will flow along the curb and into a storm water drain; which will eventually end up in a pond, lake, creek, stream or river. Unlike the sanitary sewer, storm water is untreated and can be very harmful to aquatic plants and animals if polluted with other substances. When fertilizing your lawn, any material left on the sidewalk and street should be placed back on the lawn. Do not over water your lawn; discontinue watering when the lawn becomes saturated and will no longer absorb water. Oil and antifreeze should never be washed into the street and should be disposed of properly. These items can be dropped off at the La Vista Public Works Department (9900 Portal Road) during normal business hours or during special collection events. Vehicles should be washed at a commercial car wash where soap and other chemicals drain into a sanitary sewer system. Washing a vehicle in your driveway results in these chemicals entering the storm sewer and eventually ending up in a waterway. Every citizen plays a vital role in keeping the waters of our community from being impaired.

Public Works Takes Delivery of New Dump Truck System

In March the La Vista Public Works Department took delivery of a new 2008 Sterling Dump Truck. The truck is fully equipped for snow and ice removal operations and it is the fourth unit at Public Works to utilize a Force America Hydraulic System for controlling the plow, sander, box and hydraulic controls. This standardization ensures that no matter what brand of truck an employee is operating, the controls look the same and are located in the same position. This truck also has a Swap-Loader System. This system resembles the loading and unloading system used by trash trucks for roll-off dumpsters. It allows different types of truck beds and boxes such as a standard dump box, v-box material spreader bed and flat-bed to be loaded and unloaded quickly.

"Coolest" Companies

Did you know that La Vista is home to two of the "coolest" companies to work for? A recent article in the Omaha World Herald identified five Midlands companies as standouts when it comes to designing colorful, functional, employee-friendly work spaces. Cabela's and Pay Pal designed buildings that create a "wow factor" with the public while at the same time keeping employee needs in mind. The fun, creative work spaces are positive factors in employee recruitment and retention. Congratulations to both of these companies!
